Diamonds: An Alternative Investment Opportunity

Why invest in diamonds?

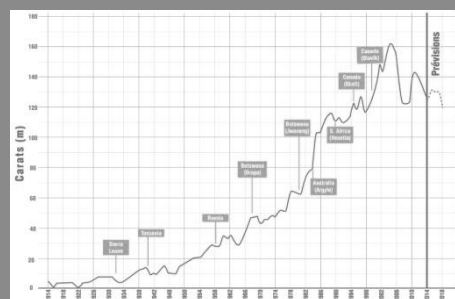

A long term positive outlook:

- Since the 2008 Crisis, the average price for polished diamonds has increased +6% every year;
- Color Diamonds show annual gain in value of 25% for the last 10 years,
- Diamonds are driven by the positive luxury market outlook.

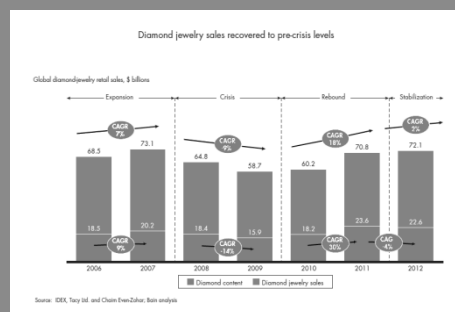

A demand-driven market:

- Demand is skyrocketing as Chinese and Indian markets are growing vigorously: China should account for 50% of the diamond Jewelry market in 2020;
- Production of rough diamonds will pick in 2017 then will decrease,
- Color Diamonds represent 0,001% of the diamonds mined.

A resilient jewelry market:

- The diamond jewelry market has completely recovered from the 2008-2009 crisis;
- According to Bain & Co, an average +2% of growth is forecasted for the coming ten years,
- Diamonds are still on the top 3 dreamed products to buy by consumers.

A portable wealth vehicle:

- The value of diamonds is recognized all over the world ,
- The Rapaport Report is the jewelry industry standard for the pricing of diamonds. It is published weekly and used by jewelers and diamond merchants to set prices,
- Diamonds are physically easy to store or to move / sell internationally.

The Investment Experts consensus
